A Word in Season.

Just at the present time the immense Drug and Book Establishment of J. C. Saur is unusually interesting, inasmuch as the Holiday Stock of Goods are being arranged, which occupies the attention of the force of the establishment day and night. We believe we are safe in saying that never before in the history of this house has such a display of ornamental and useful articles been opened up to the eyes and tastes of our citizens. The "Little Dutchman" has completely outdone himself in his efforts to please the tastes, and at the same time accommodate the pocket-books of the citizens of Napoleon and surrounding country.

As the holidays are near at hand, and knowing that it is more blessed to give than receive, Saur has made it a point this season to collect a stock of articles from which none can fail of finding something to please, no difference for whom intended, let it be a father, mother, brother, sister, aunt,
uncle, niece, nephew, cousin, husband, wife, sweetheart, or of whatever kin.

It would be the next thing to an impossibility to enumerate all the articles suitable for the holidays to be found at Saur's, but to give the reader an idea of the extent and nature of the stock, we mention the one item of Gift Books, which comprises thousands of volumes, consisting of all the latest publications at prices never before heard of in this country. Think of it, a dollar book for 25 cents, no cheap binding, but good and substantial cloth binding and printed on good paper. Here is an opportunity of securing an acceptable present for anybody for the small outlay of 25c. Go and inspect these bargains early.

New designs in Albums, something new, useful and ornamental. Also, box papers and envelopes, cards and fancy stationery in endless variety.

Toilet Articles and Perfume Cases in new and elegant designs. Gold Pens and Holders, and a profusion of articles suitable for Gifts. In fact Old Santa Claus has made Saur's his Headquarters.

In addition to this large display of Holiday Goods, Saur has in stock all the standard Drugs and Medicines of the day, always fresh and pure. Trusses, Brushes of every description, Paints, Oils and Varnishes, the best and cheapest in the market. A complete display of Wall and Window Paper. Saur still holds his title as the Wall Paper King of the Northwest, and which he rightly possesses.

Those on the lookout for goods in his line, or suitable presents for the holidays, all of which are sold at remarkably low prices, should not miss paying a visit to the Mammoth Drug and Book House of J. C.
Saur, sign of the Crystal Mortar.

Birthday Party at Stanley—Lecture to the People of Grelton—Runaway—Florida Personal.

Stanley Biddings.

... We are enjoying splendid winter weather just now.

... The John McBride saw mill is again running at full blast.

... Robert Wilson and family have moved into their new house.

... F. G. Lumbardy and wife were the guests of the family of B. Kemmer on Sunday last.

... William Albright, of Crawford county, is visiting the family of Mr. Biler, and other relatives.

... Our shoemaker, Frank Bart, has bought the Henry Baden property in Holgate, where he will move in the near future.

... On Saturday, Dec. 18th, there was a surprise birthday given to Mrs. Harriet March, in honor of her 46th birthday. About sixty of her friends, old and young, gathered with well filled baskets, the contents of which were soon spread upon tables, to which justice was done by all present. The enjoyment of the occasion was kept up until a late hour, when all departed for their homes, wishing Mrs. March many returns of her birthday. The following presents were given: Wm. Eis and wife glass honey dish, T. G. Lumbardy and wife linen towel, Geo. March and wife dress, Joe Bare and wife tidy, John Hoberger and wife stew kettle, Caroline Rothenburger glass dish, F. Leonhart and wife glass water pitcher, Ed. March pair slippers, Lisey March cake stand, Miss Roush apron, Otto Kutzner and wife set silver ware.

Dec. 20, 1886. SHOO FLY.

Grelton Mites.

... Mrs. Couch is on the sick list.

... Mr. York is again happy—another boy.

... Mr. Houts has moved in the Jackson building.

... Are we going to have a Christmas tree? If not, why not?

... There will be quarterly meeting in the month of January.

... Jim. Shidler is stopping at the Walker House. Jim. says they have exceedingly good cooks, and wonders how long the landlord has been a bachelor. Jim. seems to be on top all around.

... It is astonishing to see the crowd of customers at Joe. Ward's, something that was never witnessed before in Grelton, and it is no wonder, from the fact of the immense stock that he has on hand.

... It is high time that it be known to the rest of the outside world who owns this town. A man wrote us a card asking what the town could be bought for. The fact is, the town is all right; not so much can be said of the people.

... Just as some enterprise is about to mature here that will benefit the town, some individual with powerful influence comes to the front and tries to break it down. Several attempts have been made to start enterprises that would in time revolutionize every thing in the town. So long as you keep up this foolish and useless action there is no need of trying to do anything. Why don't you cut the throat of this cut throat system; let the lamb lay down with the lion, shake hands across the street and pull together.

... Lee Kerstetter is able to walk out this afternoon. His little daughter is still seriously ill.

... C. W. Brubaker, of Napoleon Tp., steps up and adds one to the list of new arrivals; a son last week.

... John Roberts, of West Hope, after a two weeks' visit in the village of Florida, returned home Friday last.

... Members of the Union Sabbath School of the U. B. Church are preparing for a Christmas tree and entertainment.

... Miss Ella Kemmer went to Napoleon last Thursday where she has been the guest of the Misses Carrie and Mary Sigg.

... Miss Nell Harrington, of Ridgeville, came down on Wednesday last for the purpose of attending school here the remainder of the winter.

... Win. Brubaker took a trip to Toledo last Wednesday, the result of which was the arrival of a load of new goods at their establishment on Friday.

... A new blacksmith is employed at the shop of F. B. Leonhart during the illness of Kerstetter. The blacksmith shops are humming like bee hives.

... Rev. M. C. Howey, now engaged in a series of meetings at Ridgeville, spent to-day with his family; reports much interest in the meeting by the people.

... Fred. Buckleman has the job of building two large barns for Jos. Lowery next spring. Buckleman takes the cake from all the carpenters about here.

... Win. Brubaker delivered to the firm of H. E. Miller, of Defiance, over 1200 weight poultry and more than 200 weight of beef hogs, has over 600 weight of poultry to deliver tomorrow.

... The carrying capacity of the male between West Hope and Florida was not so heavily taxed during the past two weeks, but the company will be under the necessity of carrying a heavier load for some time to come.

... Mrs. Win. Crozier is visiting in the country with the family of her son G. W. Krotzer.

... Mrs. G. T. Mason, of Toledo, has been the guest of the family of Dr. Parry.

... Geo. Brubaker, accompanied by Miss Kate Heilman and Mrs. Win Brubaker, drove to Napoleon this afternoon.

... Mrs. Elanbecher, sister of Mrs. John Long, sr., has been visiting the past two weeks with the family of C. Meyer, of Holgate.

... Dr. Parry celebrated his 88th birthday the 8th inst. He is as active and vigorous as many a man a score or more of years younger; can read writing and print readily without the aid of glasses, in fact a picture of a half old age. May his earthly years yet be many.

... While carrying the mail to-day Ed. Dixon had a run away but no serious results therefrom. While driving along his horse became frightened at something by the roadside and starting to run overturned the sleigh throwing Ed. out and breaking loose from the sleigh, dragged him along for several rods, when he finally concluded it would be discretionary to let him go, as he was near the fence and in danger of striking against the corners. The horse was soon captured by parties passing at the time. The sleigh was somewhat broken and Ed. fortunately escaped with no lasting hurts.

... Merry be the Christmas time to all ye readers. SCHUMER.

Godey First, as Usual.

Godey for January commences the publication of a story written by the talented authoress, Miss Rose Elizabeth Cleveland (sister of our President), and the story of Robin Adair will meet with many admirers. The enterprise of this, our oldest and brightest ladies' magazine, in distancing its rivals in securing the best literary talent is commendable. Now is the time to send the subscription price of $2.00 for the cheapest fashion magazine in America. W. E. Striker, Philadelphia, Pa.

OBITUARY.

KARNER—Died at his residence in Defiance, Defiance county, Ohio, December 18, 1886, of consumption, Daniel Karner, aged 71 years 5 months and 21 days. Was born in Virginia, June 13, 1815, the son of Jacob Karner, an 1815 soldier.

In 1839 the family moved to the state of Ohio, and in 1841 Daniel joined his brother Isaac at Florida, Henry county, Ohio, he having settled here the year previous. About the year 1845 he married Miss Mary Ann Essex, by which marriage he was the father of 5 children, 2 sons and 3 daughters, of which number one son and two daughters still survive. In February, 1865, the family were bereft of wife and mother. November 22, 1867, he was again married to Mrs. Sarah J. Austin, by which marriage he was the father of 5 children, 3 sons and 2 daughters, of which number one son and two daughters survive. He was a resident of Henry county up to the fall of 1868, when he moved to Defiance county, and settled near Ayersville, where he resided up to February, 1886, when he moved to the town of Defiance, where he was home when occurred his death. His health had been failing for the past two or three years. About 25 years ago he became awakened as to his spiritual welfare and passed from darkness into light and united with the Christian Church. Since his removal to Defiance county, about 40 years ago, he entered into connection with the Free Will Baptist Church, of which he lived a consistent and respected member up to the period of his death and died rejoicing in the hope of a full and free salvation. In the fulness of years and peace he had passed away and the death of the righteous man was his. Beyond the three score years and two allotted to man, had he lived and when come to him the Master's summons it found him prepared and willing to go. A kind and affectionate husband, a devoted father, a worthy and respected friend and neighbor and a useful and upright citizen had journeyed to that bourne from whence no traveler returns. The church has lost a worthy and respected member, but to the stricken family we would say they mourn not as those who have no hope. May they lay firm hold of the hope and faith that was his and they have promise of a happy meeting in the bright beyond. Services at the M. E. Church, at Ayersville, conducted by Rev. Dodge of the Free Will Baptist Church, assisted by Rev. Barker, of the M. E. Church at Ayersville. Burial in what is known as Ayer's hill grave yard.

Mr. George Duterman, New York city, suffered nearly a month with a cough, and having tried several remedies without relief, finally used Red Star Cough Cure which, he says, proved "speedy and effectual."

A valued subscriber has sent us the following almond-eyed pun, which she swears by all the pig tails in the Orient is original: "If all the girls were to go to China, what would the boys do? Don't you know? Stupid, they would Pekin, of course." Let the bells Pekin to ring.

What is the greatest evil? A good preacher said the other day that it was leavenedness. Comstock says it is obscene literature. Bergh thinks it is cruelty to animals. A solid business man thinks it is the gaming or speculative spirit. Neal Dow says it is liquor. Dr. Jackson swears that it is tobacco. For the present we give it up, but if this sort of thing is to go on much longer all sane men will agree that the greatest nuisance of the age is the unconfined lunatic who believes that he was sent into the world to reform everybody but himself.

Drunkennes, or Liquor Habit, can be Cured by administering Dr. Haines' Golden Specific.

It can be given in a cup of coffee or tea without the knowledge of the person taking it, effecting a speedy and permanent cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. Thousands have been made temperate men who have taken the Golden Specific in their coffee without their knowledge, and to-day, believe they quit drinking of their own free will. No harmful effects result from its administration. Cures guaranteed. Send for circular and full particulars. Address in confidence GOLDMAN SPECIFIC CO., 186 Race St., Cincinnati, Ohio. nov4-lyr

The Sheffield & Norton Bank Again—Creditors Clamorous for a Settlement—After Three or Four Years Waiting are they Entitled to it?

ED. NORTHWEST.—The demand for a full and complete settlement of the affairs of this bank is not confined to the creditors alone, but is equally demanded by every honest and intelligent citizen of this county. Can any valid reason be given why this shall not be done, and done at once. Can any valid reason be given why it has not been done long before this. Can any valid reason be given why High and Norton have been permitted to hold all the effects of the bank in their hands, as well as all the real estate, justly and legally liable for the payment of the debts of the bank? None has been attempted. The creditors have been simply treated with contempt and told to go to school. Some three or four months after the appointment of High, upon an investigation of the assets of the bank, it was found (including the small amount of money on hand,) to be insolvent, yet it was hoped that an honest and prompt conversion of the real estate would pay all or nearly all of the indebtedness, and such is the opinion now of those best acquainted with its affairs.

Relying upon representations made by Mr. Norton that the creditors would be fully paid, and believing they were made in good faith, they were induced to wait. Within the last year it was found that Mr. Norton had disposed of in one way or another a large quantity of the most valuable lands. He claims that the sales made by him are valid, it is believed however that all this property is, and has been, in the hands of the law—and must be applied to the payment of the debts. Norton has sold this real estate on his own motion, at a price fixed by himself, without authority from any court in the world. If he could legally sell one acre, he could sell it all, and for a dollar an acre if he should think proper.

It is not necessary, Mr. Editor, to characterize this state of facts to an intelligent people, especially in a county like Henry, where there are more than one hundred schools running in full blast.

A few months ago, it appears that Mr. Norton made a deed in trust to Gov. Scott of the balance of the lands unsold; upon inspection, however, the deed does not state who was to be the beneficiaries of the trust, or for what purpose it was made. Clearly, it was not made for the benefit of the creditors, as they are not named in the deed.

Shortly after this transaction, still claiming, I suppose, to be the owner of the land, he made an assignment of all the property to Gov. Scott for the benefit of his creditors.

Now if this trust deed to Scott is good, then he had no property to assign; if it is not good it leaves the Gov. in the lurch, as he has already sold a portion of this real estate to the widow, Hulda H. Sheffield, at a price I understand fixed by Norton, and paid by her with funds belonging ultimately to the creditors. No blame, however, can be attached to Gov. Scott in this matter, as he is known by all to be an honest, upright gentleman.

Is not this a pretty kettle of fish? Why, when fully understood it would bring a smile to the unusually grave and sedate countenance of Necdemus George Washington Joly, Esq. What is wanted, and all that is wanted, is to get rid of these barnacles, to the end that this estate may be settled up according to law, that the journal entries and proceedings heretofore had, or pretended to have been had, in the Court of Common Pleas in this county, may be rescinded and held for naught, that High may be dismissed and required to settle as was asked for by creditors at the last term of Court, and that his accounts may be referred to a master or referee for examination and settlement as prayed for by a number of answers and cross petitions prior to the last term. Is there anything unreasonable in this demand on the part of four or five hundred respectable people, many of whom are greatly in need of what may be obtained under the plain provisions of the law, that is more than fifty years old. They think they have that right, and intend to enforce it.

CREDITOR.
Napoleon, O., Dec. 20, 1886.

The annual number of the Cincinnati Graphic News is out, fresh from the press this morning, and is one of the handsomest newspapers ever issued in the United States, if, indeed, it has been excelled anywhere. It compares favorably with the gorgeous holiday numbers of the old established London papers, both as to the art and literary features. It is a portfolio of fine pictures, while the stories, poems and sketches are from the best writers of the country. Cincinnati, that excels in so many things, should be proud of the Graphic News. To Messrs. George A. Robertson and Frank B. Wright, under whose editorial genius this beautiful number has developed, The Sun extends its compliments and congratulations.—Cincinnati Sun, December 17th.

THE BATTLEFIELDS.

What Congress is Doing in Honor of Heroes of the Past.

The Wauson Republican says: Colonel Howard has received letters from Senator Sherman, and also Chief Justice Waite, which indicate that the bill for the purchase and improvement of the old forts and battlefields in the Maumee valley will undoubtedly become a law, it having passed the Senate and is now on the calendar of the House. The Secretary of War, in response to a letter from General Logan, chairman of the committee on Military Affairs of the Senate, will detail an engineer from the War Department to make a survey of the following localities: Put-in-Bay, the scene of Commodore Perry's great battle of September 10, 1813; Fort Industry, at the mouth of Swan creek, erected August 21, 1794; Fort Miami, on northeast side of Maumee river, seven miles above Toledo; Fort Meigs and the burial grounds of the soldiers of the war of 1821, on the southeast bank of the Maumee; a suitable portion of the battle-fields of Fallen Timbers, on the northwest bank of the river, four miles above Fort Meigs, where Wayne defeated the Indians under Turkeyfoot, August 20, 1794; Fort Defiance, at the confluence of the Auglaize and Maumee rivers, erected by General Wayne August 17, 1794; Fort Wayne, at the city of Fort Wayne, Ind., at the confluence of the St. Joe and St. Mary's rivers, erected by General Wayne in October, 1794. Col. D. W. H. Howard, of Wauson, is entitled to great credit for what has been accomplished towards doing justice to the memory of the brave men who sacrificed their lives in defense of their country in the Maumee valley when it was yet a dense wilderness.

A Grand Record.

We call your attention to the advertisement of a remedy which has stood the test of more than a half century with increasing popularity and is universally admitted to have no equal as a medicine for the cure of diseases originating in a disordered Liver, such as Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Constipation, Colic, etc. Simmons' Liver Regulator is a simple and harmless medicine, purely vegetable, and can be safely and advantageously used under any circumstances. It acts mildly and effectually and is especially valuable as a Family Medicine, which position it holds in so many homes. We do not know another preparation which can bring forward such indorsements from heads of families and those holding the highest official and social positions. Keep Simmons' River Regulator in your house, it will reduce your doctor's bill and insure for your families health and happiness.

It is not to be wondered at that so popular and meritorious a medicine should be counterfeited. The Medicine cannot imitate, but they copy its exterior, cannot appearance and use names so suggestive of Simmons' Liver Regulator as to catch the unwary. Don't risk your health perhaps life by not exercising proper discrimination in buying. Be sure you are right. Look and see that you get the genuine which has always the trade-mark Z in red on the front of the wrapper and the signature of J. H. Zeilin & Co. on its side.

Sherman's Prohibitory Tariff.

In his annual report to Congress Secretary Manning combats Senator Sherman's proposition, recently promulgated, to reduce the Government revenue by putting a prohibitory tariff on articles manufactured at home. The following extracts shows the pith of the argument:

Some whose mistaken view of their own interests has thus far prolonged our war taxation admit the necessity of its reduction, and propose to cut down the Federal revenue by raising still higher the rates of the war tariff, until by their prohibitory action they effect a more complete exclusion of imported commodities, which their fellow-citizens desire to buy with the products of American industry.

There are several objections to such a scheme. It is "protection" indeed, and like "free trade," would prevent revenue on imports. But we need just now to get $150,000,000 from taxation on imports. What is worse, it would continue the exclusion of the surplus products of American industry from foreign markets, and so prevent the natural diversifying of our industries. It therefore would postpone or prevent the larger and unintermittent employment of American wage-earners in productive industry. It would cut down the receipts of the Treasury and continue the multiplied indirect and incidental taxation levied upon our whole population through prices enhanced by the higher tariff tax, yet nowhere able to be spent by any employer or labor in raising the wages or labor; for it would subject the employers themselves to another course of high profits, inviting an excess of new-comers, entailing overproduction for the home markets, reckless competition, with no established outlet, in working off the surplus product; agreements to restrict production in order to keep up prices; then the discharge of labor by the employers who go to the wall; intermittent and diminished employment of labor by those who combine to prevent overproduction; and, last of all, desperate competition for employment by the wage-earners themselves, hopeless strikes and profitable lock-outs.

"Consumption can be Cured." Dr. J. S. Coma, Owensville, Ohio, says: "I have given Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites to four patients with better results than seemed possible with any remedy. All were hereditary cases of lung disease, and advanced to that stage when coughs, pain in the chest, frequent breathing, frequent pulse, fever and emaciation. All these cases have increased in weight from 16 to 23 lbs., and are not now needing any medicine."

"In fact, it may safely be claimed that the license system is the only system that can be effectively applied to restrict the abuses of that dangerous liquor traffic, which no sane man proposes to abolish altogether."—Rev. Dr. L. W. Bacon.

A Former Tiffin Belle Insane.

The subject of the following is well known to many of the Seneca county people living in this county:

CLEVELAND, Ohio, December 15.—A mysterious lady of unsound mind, now in the County Jail, has been discovered to be the once well-known daughter of the late Judge Walsh, and a niece by marriage, of General W. H. Gibson, of Tiffin, Ohio. The story of the latter part of her life and her aimless wanderings while out of her mind is a pitiful one.

About one o'clock Sunday night the clerk at the Stillman House was awakened by the entrance of a middle-aged lady, dressed in black, who asked for a room for the night. She was registered by the clerk as "Mrs. M. McBride, city." She said she was lost. When the clerk went on duty at noon yesterday he sent a boy to the room to see if it was occupied. The guest was walking up and down, muttering incoherently. Dr. Parker was sent for. He found that the strange lady was raving mad. At times she was calm, and in answer to questions, said that she had two daughters. Then she would become irrational and speak of "poor Willie." At times she exclaimed: "He's dead; he's dead."

It was decided to remove her to the jail to await an examination for insanity in the Probate Court.

To-day Judge C. C. Baldwin, of the Circuit Court, and Major W. W. Armstrong, attracted by the newspaper notices of the case, visited the lady and identified her as Mrs. Maria McBride, the daughter of the late Judge Walsh. The unfortunate woman has a curious and interesting history. Her father, Judge Walsh, came to Ohio with the early settlers from Connecticut, and settled in Seneca county, where he soon acquired considerable wealth. Maria Walsh was a magnificent-looking girl, with a stately carriage and luxuriant raven hair. During the war she was exceedingly patriotic, singing at concerts and taking prominent parts in patriotic plays given to raise funds for the equipment of troops. Traces of her beauty can still be seen in her features, but the black hair has turned gray and the erect form is bent.

Judge Walsh, in later years, sold his lands and placed the money in the Tiffin Bank that went under with such a crash afterward. He was ruined by this failure, and being broken down in health, died at Green Springs about five years ago. At the close of the war his daughter married a dashing young officer named McBride, but he proved worthless and the marriage was unhappy.

Last night Mrs. McBride wrote the following dispatch to Oscar Tunison, of Tiffin, Ohio:

"DEAR OSCAR: I am in the County Jail. I have been arrested. Am in the County Jail. I can not say why."

Very truly,
"MARIA MCBRIDE."
An examination of her trunk showed that she had been a stewardess on the steamer P. S. Marsh, which went ashore at Point St. Ignace. From Point St. Ignace she came to Cleveland. When it became known to lay who the mysterious lady was dozens of former friends called upon her at the jail. She was at once given quarters in the Sheriff's residence, and the Sheriff telegraphed to Gen. Gibson. The General answered that Mrs. McBride had no friends to care for her, and that, as she was uncontrollable, she should be sent to an asylum. The Sheriff will await developments. Mrs. McBride has a daughter in Cincinnati.

General Hancock's Widow.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 19.—The friends of the late Gen. W. S. Hancock have as a tribute to his memory raised a sum of money to purchase a home for his widow. The committee having the matter in charge decided, after consultation with Mrs. Hancock, to purchase a house in this city, where, therefore, she will hereafter make her home.

For 20 years Henry F. Balcom, of Shirley, Mass., suffered with rheumatism. He found no relief until he took Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Dayton has a what-it with the face of a monkey and a nose that terminates in an owl's beak. The body is owl shaped and colored the hue of a guinea hen. The eyes look human and when disturbed it pulls up like a bull frog.

Unfailing Specific for Liver Disease.

Symptoms: Bitter or bad taste in mouth; tongue coated white or covered with a brown fur; pain in the back, sides, or joints—often mistaken for Rheumatism; sour stomach; loss of appetite; sometimes nausea and water-brash, or indigestion; flatulency and acid eructations; bowels alternately constipated and lax; headache; loss of memory; with a painful sensation of having failed to do something which ought to have been done; debility; low spirits; a thick, yellow appearance of the skin and eyes; a dry cough; fever; restlessness; the urine is scanty and high colored, and, if allowed to stand, deposits a sediment.
